

HOUSEHOLD MATTERS

To Clean a Raincoat.

This is an excellent way of cleaning the mud of your cloak: To take off the stains rub with plain warm water. Dip the garment in cold soft water, then with a scrubbing brush and yellow soap proceed to scrub it all over, having spread the garment flat on the table. When the dirt is removed, dip the coat in repeated waters to get rid of the suds, but do not wring it. Hang up in the air or in an airy room to dry, but do not put near the fire. Paint or grease spots may be removed by scouring drops or spirits of turpentine, but common soap will do the rest. The dirtiest parts will require most scrubbing. In cleaning wackintoshes always avoid hot water.—Washington Star.

Peach Dumplings.

Peach dumplings are made of a pint of flour sifted with two table-spoonsful of baking powder and with a tablespoonful of butter rubbed carefully through it. Mix with a half-cupful of warm—not hot—milk. Roll out the paste a quarter of an inch thick, and cut it into six pieces. Put a heaping tablespoonful of cooked or canned peaches in each piece of paste and seal them in it. Put the six dumplings in a steamer and steam about half an hour. Dish them and serve them with an apricot sauce. This consists of four table-spoonsful of apricot marmalade, mixed with half a cupful of water and a teaspoonful of butter. Strain the sauce after heating, and add a teaspoonful of caramelized sugar. When the caramel melts, the sauce is ready to serve.

For Picnicking.

Do not take everything you can think of.

Pick and choose and prepare carefully. Tix boxes and waxed paper will prevent mussiness.

The value of tin boxes will be evident when the foods are taken out unharmed.

Wise people do not picnic in places where ice and spring water are not convenient, unless they go in a wagon or other vehicle and carry these necessities.

For food tea the beverage should be made at home very strong, and carried in a small glass jar. It is easily weakened with spring water.

Lemon juice, sugar and whatever other fruit juices one likes should also be carried in a small glass jar. Squeezing lemons and slicing fruits is so messy!

A person who draws the line at a paper napkin has no business at a picnic. Small fruits, salted nuts and almonds are among the easy and delicious things to carry. Dainty sandwiches packed in waxed paper are the standby of the cold picnic feast.

If a fire is to be built, there may be surprises. A broiler takes up no room, and with it one may produce hot chicken, bacon, ham and the like. For frying one of the tin dishes does wonders.—Philadelphia Record.

Four Easily Made Salads.

Egg Salad With Cream Cheese.—Rub together the yolks of half-boiled eggs and an equal quantity of Neuchâtel cream cheese. Season with salt and cayenne, and roll into little balls. Arrange some lettuce on a dish and cut into very small pieces the whites of the eggs, making a bed of them upon the lettuce. Place the cheese balls on it. Just before serving pour over the salad a mayonnaise dressing.

Veal Salad.—Let the veal be thoroughly cooked and use only the best part containing no gristle. Equal proportions of cold veal and chopped white cabbage served with mayonnaise dressing is a very palatable salad. Another way is to cut the cold veal into half-inch pieces and soak in oil and vinegar for two hours; then dress with three spoonfuls of oil, one of vinegar, one teaspoonful of French mustard, and two of pounded anchovies or anchovy sauce. Sprinkle with chopped pickle and capers.

Carrot Salad.—Boil very young carrots in a little water until tender. Cut into narrow strips lengthwise. Sprinkle with minced chervil, tarragon, cress, or any herb desired. Cover with a French dressing. Serve cold.

Pot-Cheese Salad.—Mix the cheese with mayonnaise dressing, and when cold place a teaspoonful on a plateful of lettuce leaves for each guest. If the cheese is dry, it can be mixed with cream or butter and served with boiled dressing or mayonnaise separately on leaves of salad.—American Queen.

RECIPES

Bread Ramekins.—Rub together four table-spoonsful of grated cheese, the yolk of one egg, one table-spoonful of melted butter, a little anchovy paste or one anchovy; a little salt and pepper; rub until smooth; spread on toasted bread, and brown in the oven.

Buttermilk Cakes.—Beat one egg; add it to the buttermilk with one teaspoon of salt; mix well; dissolve one teaspoon of soda in two table-spoonsful of boiling water; add gradually four cups of water; make a batter that will pour smoothly from a spoon; beat well and bake on a hot griddle; serve with sugar and butter.

Delmonico Potatoes.—Heat two cupfuls of cold boiled potatoes, cut into dice, in one and a half cupfuls of white sauce; when thoroughly heated put a layer in a buttered baking dish; sprinkle with salt and grated cheese; put in alternate layers until all the potatoes are in the dish; spread with buttered crumbs and brown in the oven.

Veal and Sage Soup.—Put three cupfuls of veal stock over the fire; soak two table-spoonsful of sage in a little cold water in the back of the range one hour; then stir it into the veal stock and cook until it is clear and transparent; beat the yolks of one or two eggs a little, add a little of the hot soup to them and pour all back into the kettle again; heat thoroughly but do not boil; season well.

SUFFERED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS.

Completely Restored to Health.

Mrs. P. Brunzel, wife of P. Brunzel, stock dealer, residence 3111 Grand Ave., Everett, Wash., says: "For fifteen years I suffered with terrible pain in my back. I experimented with doctors and medicines, but got little if any relief. I actually believe the aching in my back and through the groin became worse. I did not know what it was to enjoy a night's rest and arose in the morning feeling tired and unrefreshed. My suffering sometimes was simply indescribable. Finally, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and got a box. After a few doses I told my husband that I was feeling much better and that the pills were doing me good. When I finished that box I felt like a different woman. I didn't stop at that, though. I continued the treatment until I had taken five boxes. There was no recurrence until a week ago, when I began to feel miserable again. I bought another box and three days' treatment restored me to health. Doan's Kidney Pills act very effectively, very promptly, relieve the aching pains and all other annoying difficulties. I have recommended them to many people and will do so when opportunities present themselves."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mrs. Brunzel will be mailed to any part of the United States on application. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents per box.

For the Family Furs.

When, for the first time, small Katherine witnessed a hailstorm she was very much surprised. Almost without warning, large, white globules fell pelting down out of the sky. Astonished Katherine, who was of-of-door, lost no time in getting under cover.

ATTORNEY MOYERS DEAD.

Was Engaged in the Collection of War Claims for Nearly Forty Years.

Col. Gilbert Moyers, who for upwards of forty years was engaged in the collection of war claims against the Government, and who enjoyed the distinction of being at the head of this particular line of practice, departed this life June 13 at Washington, D. C. In a recent interview at their offices in Washington, Attorney L. M. Moyers and C. F. Connell, formerly associated with him, stated that they are continuing the vigorous prosecution of all claims placed in Col. Moyers' hands as well as of new cases and expect that the report for the collection of all such claims, for stores and supplies, rent and cotton, was never brighter than at present, and that earnest work by claimants and their attorneys during the next few years should result in large numbers of these claims being successfully prosecuted to collection.

The Milesian character sketches of Seumas MacManus are not biting, only amusing. The tale called "How Miss Turkington Did Not See Queen Victoria," which appears in the September Lippincott is one of his sweetest and funniest bits of native drawing.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a real letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did."—Miss GRACE GANNON, 350 Jones St., Detroit. Corresponding Sec'y Mich. Amateur Art Association. —$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

It is clearly shown in this young lady's letter that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will surely cure the sufferings of women; and when one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of hundreds which we have, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all.

AGRICULTURAL.

Graining Cows in Summer.

While in many sections grain feeding must be done this summer, the ordinary practice is not to feed grain to cows that are on pasture. This is acknowledged to be a mistake by those who have tried both methods, provided their cows were grade or thoroughbred. In some sections the belief in grain has been carried to the extent that the cows are barn fed the year through. That this results in a good milk flow can not be denied, but there is some question as to the advisability of depriving cows of grass entirely. On the other hand, there can be no question about the value of graining to a moderate extent in connection with pasturing. To commence with, the supply of grain should be small, say a pint a day, increasing the quantity as the value of the grass decreases. The expense of this plan is certainly small compared with the results, and during this month and August is a good time to test it.—Indianapolis News.

Poultry and Small Fruits.

That there is good profit in raising poultry in connection with small fruits has been repeatedly proved; on the other hand many failures have resulted solely because provision has not been made to keep the fowls from the fruit plots. If this is done there will be no trouble in working both industries to advantage, for the time when the fruit needs the most attention is the period when the fowls need least. In working this combination it is a good plan to raise poultry largely for the sale of the carcasses in the fall and winter production of eggs then, if the young chicks are hatched early in the spring, for the work of the poultry will interfere but little with the necessary attention which must be given the small fruits. By proper arrangement of poultry yards and runs and the small fruit plots there should be no trouble in keeping them apart. For a man who must handle a small farm alone there is no better combination than that of poultry and small fruits.—Indianapolis News.

Charcoal For Poultry.

The hen in confinement must have careful feeding to keep her in health. Charcoal is cleansing to the system and promotes digestion and appetite. A simple device for securing charcoal from the ashes of any wood fire is quickly made out of a codfish box.

To make the little shifter shown in the drawing pry the bottom from one of the four and a half by eight-inch boxes in which fish is bought. Cut a piece of netting from a worn-out ash sifter will do) about five inches square. Tack this over the bottom of the box at one end, using double pointed tacks. Bend the edges of the netting up against the box on the outside, then tack the bottom of the box on again, letting it just cover the netting and project four and a half inches or so beyond the box. This forms a handle, and a piece of cord passed through two holes and tied to form a loop makes it possible to hang up the sifter.

This sifter seems a small and slight affair, but it works much better than a big one into which several quarts of ashes would be dumped at once. Armed with an old pan and a fire shovel, putting in only a few shovels at a time, the contents of the ash pan from your kitchen range will yield over a quart of fine charcoal.—American Agriculturist.

The Value of a Dairy Cow.

When a dairyman goes into the market to purchase a cow he generally finds certain valuations placed on the different ones, governed more or less by the past records, but to a large extent he will be disappointed in his purchases unless he has some intimate knowledge of the nature of dairy cows. A good many cows are worth more than their record. They may have possibilities which are only slightly apparent, but which under proper treatment might be easily developed.

A cow's record for producing milk and cream must always be considered in connection with her feeding. Cows that have good records have been known to be such heavy feeders that there was no profit in keeping them. Another animal with probably a similar good record for yield will be a comparatively small feeder. Whatever she eats seems to go into milk or butter fat. A record of milk yield without a record of daily feeding is of little value to any one. The two questions cannot be separated.

Another point that must be considered is the season of the year when the yields of butter, cream and milk have been made. A dairy cow that will make large yields in the summer, and comparatively nothing in the fall and winter, is far less valuable than another who keeps up a pretty steady yield the year round. We must remember that it is winter dairying that pays best, and the cows that have to be wintered without returning much for the food and care are not profitable investments.

One pound of rich cream or butter fats in the winter is worth almost two in summer. Cows with good yearly records are known to produce heavily in the spring and summer, but as winter comes on they dry up and produce very little for five or six months. Such a cow is far less valuable than another whose spring and summer records are not phenomenal, but which keeps up a pretty fair average right through the winter. To test the actual value of a dairy cow one must consider carefully these two questions of yield in proportion to the amount of food given, and the winter average of the milk and cream. You cannot tell what any cow is worth until some sort of answers can be obtained to these questions.—E. P. Smith, in American Cultivator.

Caring for Your Books.

In nothing is it truer that "a stitch in time saves nine" than in the care of your good friends the books. Watch them, and as soon as signs of old age appear do your best to heal the ravages that have been made. A book-hospital might well be established in every household, so that the injured would receive "first aid"—the timely assistance that will prolong life and service. You will find the equipment of such a hospital a simple matter and not expensive. You will need a tube of paste, tough thin paper, strips of leather and of linen, water colors, transparent gummed paper, and so on. With these at hand you may easily graduate into a competent book surgeon. Torn leaves can be straightened, backs can be reinforced, missing pages replaced, copying the text from another volume. Thus many a good book rescued from early dissolution may go on to an honored and useful old age. Remember that a book of good fiction is seldom like a lump of chalk; the chalk is useful down to the last fragment, but a book rather resembles a soap bubble, being often destroyed by the first injury.—From Books and Reading in 'the September St. Nicholas.

The Automobile and the Cart Horse.

A swift automobile once swept proudly past a Tired Cart Horse. "Hello, Old Stick-in-the-Mud!" it called, tauntingly. "Back to the Bone-yard, you Dead One!" So saying, it disappeared in a Cloud of Steam.

A little farther down the Pike, the Tired Cart Horse came upon the Swift Automobile, now Busted. "Ah!" said the Stead, with a Horse Laugh, "who is Stick-in-the-Mud now? You are indeed far from your Happy Home."

While the Cart Horse was thinking up other Biting Sarcasms of this Nature, they hitched him up to the Damaged Vehicle, and he was compelled to yank it laboriously to the stable, fourteen miles away on an up grade.

Hundreds of Dollars Spent in Vain.

Mr. Cyrus Hershman, Sheridan, Ind., writes:

"Two years ago I was a sick man. Catarrh had settled in the pelvic organs, making life a burden and giving me little hope of recovery. I spent hundreds of dollars in medicine which did me no good. I was persuaded by a friend to try Peruna. I took it two weeks without much improvement, but I kept on with it and soon began to get well and strong very fast. Within two months I was cured, and have been well ever since. I am a strong advocate of Peruna."—C. Hershman.
